

Another Letter To My Love by Shane Whitman

My soul was wounded.
I was sent adrift with an arrow through my heart
Until I met you...a woman brave enough to pull it out.
Out poured fear, love and my past.
And you did what no others before you have done.
You got in my boat and laid with me.
You didn't try to fix me.
You just simply loved me.

Love always,
