

Unconditional love by Adiel Potok

No matter how far apart from here to yonder there
There will always be at least one thing that we both share.
Unconditional love from the bottoms of our heart
Even in the darkest times its our minds that keep us apart.
No matter how far we are I know that you'll be there
Especially in the times when I'm in most despair.
Oh unconditional love its what keeps us together
No matter what time of day or the weather.
Oh unconditional love from the bottoms of our hearts
We know your always there whenever we're apart.
