

I Am American
By Felix Wang
Grade 4

When you think of freedom,
what comes to mind?
America.
And who lives in America?
European, African, Oceanic, and Asian people.
but still all American.
Just like me.
But why do we look different?
We're all from the same country.
A free country.
America.
We look different,
because our background is different.
No one's background is the same.
Just like how no one's DNA can be the same.
This is why America is one of the greatest countries in the world.
Welcoming all races,
And providing equal opportunities.
But, what is an American?
Americans can be anybody.
Anybody.
Anybody that believes.
Believes in anything,
Or everything.
As long as you believe,
You can become American.
Me, an American with an Asian background,
Am accepted in America.
It doesn't matter if I don't look like everyone else,
Because at the end of the day,
Who cares?
That's why I,
Felix Wang,
Am so proud to be an American.
