

We, the souls of the future

We, the souls of the future

We, can carve the world to its beautiful shape

So, join me, souls of the future

And we will end this segregation

If we all unite

Not only physically

But mentally

We can knock down that fence

That has torn us apart

We, the souls of the future

We, can dream on about many things

But never work towards that dream

We, can give up when times are hard

Or, we can chase that dream

We, can work through those hard times

To get a great reward

We, the souls of the future

We can unite

And knock down that fence that has been built once again

So join me, join us

Souls of the future, Spirits of the future, Angels of the future, Gods of the future

And Goddesses of the future

And we can finally end segregation.
